THE BAD MOTHER'S REVENGE

Sonia Neale
ABC BOOKS

WHEN Sonia Neale was trying to deal with post-natal depression, her therapist suggested jotting down her thoughts. The end result is this wonderfully funny and very truthful book that deals with the joys of motherhood from giving birth to raising teenagers.

The Bad Mother's Revenge is a witty, poignant book that takes a look at the dark side as well as the joys of parenting. This book contains some classic gems and definitions: "Mastitis: when the milk of human kindness turns to sour cream", "It's easier to raise the Titanic than raise a teenager", "Cleaning a house on school holidays is like drying yourself under the shower with a wet towel."

This is a book that will appeal to mothers of all ages and is an ideal Mother's Day gift.
